Scholarships Available August 1st Annually at www.awam.org

There are many diverse skills in the field of Aviation Maintenance and Technology. Our unique scholarship opportunities are not just for students or just for females. In fact, many are for those already working in the field, transitioning from the military, or for guys, too!

Review each scholarships' requirements. If you don't find something that fits YOU and the direction you are going in this exciting field, let us know. We look annually for new opportunities.

You must be an AWAM member in order to apply. Use the Scholarship Checklist that is included in the application package to complete your application. Applicants associated with the scholarship sponsor organizations are not restricted from participation.
